LIPPITT'S SPECIFIC, For the Cure of Dysentery. Diarrhaa, and Summer Complaint.

In presenting this justly celebrated Medicine to the publie, we make no rash assertions of its efficacy, nor is any hope held out to the afflicted which facts do not warrant. for the cure of the above diseases and those appertaining to the same class, the Proprietor has been induced to offer it on a more extensive scale, with a view to lessen the amount of This remedy having been, for years, used in this place, human suffering. I have never known it to fail when the di-rections have been strictly adhered to.

Many useless nostrums have been palmed upon the public, and I hesitated for some time, until thoroughy convinced of its efficacy. CERTIFICATES.
Extract of a letter received from S. J. Carroll.

BALTIMORE, January 10th, 1851.

WM. H. LIPPITT, Esq.,—Dear Sir:—I have no hesitation in saying that your Specific is one of the best Medicines extant for Dysentery, Diarrhwa, &c. You possibly may recollect my case; if it has escaped your memory I will give you briefly the facts. I had tried every thing that I had seen used, but with little success. And after using enough to start twenty-five Homeopathie M. D's., I began to despair, when you kindly offered me your invaluable Medicine, which cured me effectually.

WILMINGTON, N. C., August 14th, 1851.

WM. H. LIPPITT, Esq.,—Dear Sir:—I have used your Specific in two cases in my family for Dysentery. In one 4 papspoonfuls effected a complete cure—in the other, three had the like effect. Respectfully, &c., THOS. LORING, Ed. Commercial.

HARRELL'S STORE, New Hanover County, N. C , Oct. 10, 1851 -WM. H. LIPPITT, Esq., - Dear Sir: -It is with pleasure I state that I have used your Specific for the cure of Dysentery, Diarrhea, &c., and have found it to produce the desired effect in every case I used it after the usual remedies have failed. I recommend it with confidence to the public. Respectfully, &c., J. B. SEAVEY, M. D. SAVANNAH, Ga, December 26th, 1851.—Mr. Wm. H. Lip. PITT,-Dear Sir:-It is with pleasure I acknowledge the wonderful effects of your Medicine for curing Diarrhosa or Bowel complaint, as I am satisfied it was the means, under God, of saving the life, first of my Child and then of my Brother. As my Brother was given up by two of the most eminent Physicians in this place, Drs. Richardson and Wregg, and when I consulted the latter as to the propriety of trying it on him so low, he said I might to satisfy myself that I had left nothing untried, but he did not think that Medicine would be of any use to him. But thank God he was mistaken, as we saw the salutary effects in 24 hours, and in ten days he was able to be out of bed. I remain yours, very truly and gratefully, WM. joy the following parody, which we copy from the Whether the following is original or not, we are uncertain strikes us we have read something like it before. E Pluribus Unum .- BY GREASE LONGWOOD. The day was getting dark and brown, As through a down-east country-town A feller went, who waved thrice

A hankercher with this device— E Pluribus Unum!" He sweated like a bull-his eye Gleamed like a red-hot cranberry pie, And like a darn'd old crack'd bassoon, His voice screamed out a drendful tune-

All round about he saw the light From lightning-bugs gleam proper bright, And overhead flew curious birds, To whom he spoke in these 'ere words—
"E Pluribus Unum!"

"Hello, you feller !" said old dad Owen, "What's your name, and where're you goin'! Say, aint you troubled with white mice?" Say, aint you troubled in a trice,
"E Pluribus Unum!"

"O, stay," said Sally Ann, "and take Some bread and milk, and Jonny-cake!" He turn'd and neav u and And uttered with a howling cry, "E Pluribus Unum!" He turn'd and heav'd an awful sigh,

"Beware o' my pertater patch! My traps the bears I sot to catch !" Tom Owen said, with much consarn; A voice replied behind the barn, "E Pluribus Unum!" Next morning, as from out the house The gals came forth to milk the cows,

Each with a bran-new, painted pail, A dismal voice did then assail-"E Pluribus Unum !" A traveler, pale and red with blood, Lay foundered in the black swamp mud, And gasping like an iron vice That handkercher, with that device-

There in the foggy morning light, Scared, and e'en jest dead with fright, He lay, and while in this 'ere fix, His voice fell like a thousand bricks-

Van Buren and Jackson. The secret of Mr. Van Buren's popularity with General Jackson, as given by an adopted citizen who was once behind the curtain as a valet, is amusing:

"E Pluribus Unum !"

Buren always kept in with the ould gineral as he "Why, I'm thinking, Murphy, it was because he always had such a bad could, jist!"

"And how does it happen, Pat, that Misther Van

"And what had his having a could to do with the matter at all, at all ?" "Why, did you never hear, Murphy, my boy, of the fox that had a could? Then I'll tell ye. Once Parent Medicines.—4 boxes Sand's Sarsaparilla, 2

The Philosophy of Drowning. Under this curious title we find in one of our Enthe manner in which a knowledge of them is conveyed in this paragraph is very amusing and well worth perpetuating. If it could only be remembered in all was Hamlet Hamlet's father was subsequently murdered by his brother, who married the widow and succeeded to the Government of the whole of Jutland. As a Pagan, it was Hamlet's first duty to avenge his father. The better to conceal his purpose he feigned madness :-His uncle suspecting it to be feigned, sent him to England, with a request to the king that he would put Hamlet to death. He was accompanied by two creatures of his ancle. whose letter to the English king was carved upon wood, according to the costom of that period. This, Hamlet during the voyage, contrived to get possession of, and so altered the characters as to make it a request that his two companions should be slain, which was accordingly done on their arrival in England. He afterwards married the daughter of the English king, but subsequently returned to Jutland and feigning madness contrived to surprise and slay his uncle, after upbraiding him with his varions crimes Hamlet then became Governor of Jutland, was married a second time to a Queen of Scotland, and was eventually killed in battle. The whole history of Hamlet is carefully and minutely detailed; but these are the leading historical features upon which Shakspeare founded his beautiful tragedy; and rude and disgusting as many of the incidents in Hamlet's life were, the mode in which Shakspeare has treated them is one of the greatest proofs of his splendid genius. According to Saxo, Hamlet lived about four centuries before Christ.
